

Detroit Engineering Products (DEP) chooses Santos®

Detroit Engineering Products (DEP) has chosen to showcase the capabilities in Santos®, one of SantosHuman Inc.'s products, at their 2015 Conclave, Advanced Optimization Technologies for Rapid Product Development. This exciting event provides a platform to showcase the latest technologies, and bring together the brightest minds in the CAD and CAE community. It is a forum to promote professional development, technology transfer, networking, and information exchange among industry professionals. Combining SantosHuman's capabilities to predict dynamic human motion with DEP's novel capabilities for CAE and CAD model generation promises to provide unique tools for high-fidelity human simulation and injury prevention.

SantosHuman is excited and honored to be a part of this event.
