

PREMUS Conference in Toronto, Canada

On June 20-23, 2016, PREMUS, the 9th International Scientific Conference on the Prevention of Work-Related Musculoskeletal Disorders, is taking place in Toronto, Canada.

A variety of professionals, including scientists, researchers, and ergonomists, come together to discuss their shared interests in understanding the causes and prevalence work-related musculoskeletal disorders (MSDs).

SantosHuman Inc's Technical Consultant, Jim Potvin (former Professor, Dept. of Kinesiology, McMaster University, Ontario, Canada) will be presenting "Efficient Assessment of Physical Workload." During this session he will present quick reference tables to estimate female manual arm strength.

Read more about the PREMUS Conferences here, with Jim Potvin's presentation noted on the bottom of page 38.