

The Santos[®] Pro Experience

Providing a Contextual and Interactive Introductory Experience of Santos[®] Pro Features and Capabilities

Developed to be a foundational platform for human-centric, virtual product design and analysis, [Santos[®] Pro](#) is a highly flexible and feature-rich environment which can provide solutions for any digital human modeling requirement. However, as with any feature-rich application, providing new or casual users with a contextual, introductory overview of the many capabilities and features available within Santos[®] Pro is a significant challenge.

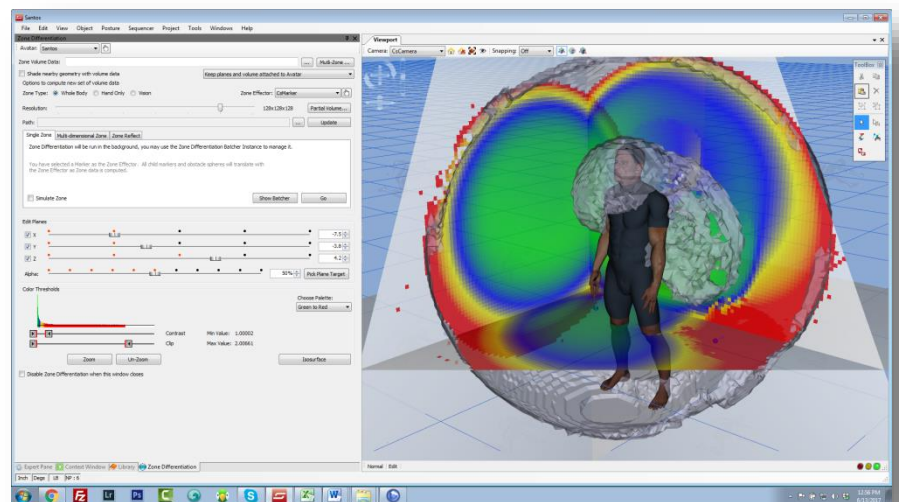

We are excited that this challenge has recently been taken up by the [Santos[®] Institute](#). In its ongoing effort to develop and disseminate Santos[®] knowledge, the Santos[®] Institute is making its Proof-of-Concept (PoC) effort, “The Santos[®] Pro Experience”, available for your review and feedback.

The PoC Santos[®] Pro Experience represents not only a potential framework for providing even the most casual user with an interactive and contextual introductory overview of Santos[®] Pro’s many features and capabilities, we believe this framework has great potential as an on-line, interactive, and evolving How-To Guide for all of SantosHuman Inc’s products.

We invite you to try out The Santos[®] Pro Experience and encourage you to provide feedback to:

In addition, feel free to invite friends and colleagues to experiment with it as well. The more feedback received, the better (and more useful) this experience will be.

SHI’s success is tied directly to our clients’ success and Santos[®] Pro represents yet another way in which we strive to match our state of the art, human-centric, virtual product design and analysis methods, technologies, and resources with client requirements.
